The outer reflects the inner is an absolute rule.
The more you insist on it, the greater is the self-awareness as well as Life-awareness.

-Sri Karmayogi

Some form of good fortune may come your way and you may wonder why it is occurring just now. But if you think back and consider aspects of your being that you consciously elevated a while earlier, you may come to fully understand why all this benefit has suddenly descended on you. — Roy Posner

What Is Life Response?

Life Response is the phenomenon where the conditions of life suddenly or very rapidly turn positive due to a shift in one's consciousness.

What normally takes days, weeks, months, or never happens at all, occurs in a very short time; or in a matter of moments – or even instantaneously in the blink of an eye!

Some Examples of Life Response

A low-producing salesperson gives up his RELUCTANCE to work weekends and instantly attracts the biggest sale of his life as soon as he arrives at work.

A man gives up his LIMITED ATTITUDE about the service he is offering, and suddenly his business takes off like a rocket

A man studies the issue and then calls to the Spirit, and all of a sudden a major electrical crisis facing his entire country suddenly comes to an end after weeks of near catastrophic conditions.

A silhouette of a person standing on a grassy field at sunset, with their reflection in a body of water. The person is looking down, and the sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds. The water in the foreground is calm, reflecting the person and the sky.

Inner – Outer Correspondence

What is occurring on the outside is a direct reflection of our inner condition.

We think that the inner & outer are separable, but that is an illusion of our limited consciousness.

The inner and the outer are actually part of the same single stream of existence.

Thus, when we change our consciousness inside, life instantly responds in kind on the outside.

In that way, life is like a mirror, constantly reflecting who we are; what we think, feel, and believe.

We call this relationship
“Inner-Outer Correspondence”

You Can Make Life INSTANTLY Respond!

Normally, we believe that taking an action on our part brings about a corresponding result in life. This is of course true. There is also a secret knowledge that certain changes in our behavior can instantly evoke good fortune from the world around us. We call this dramatic phenomenon "life response."

For example, let's talk about money. We are all aware of the importance of intelligence, hard work, social position, skill, organization, and other forms of strength and power to create wealth. There are, however, a few hidden strategies to elicit an immediate response from life regarding money. For one, keeping accurate and up-to-date accounts of money is a powerful mechanism for attracting more of it. E.g., one small business owner decided to balance eight months of back statements in a weekend and received $5000 from out of nowhere the next day. This is an example of a life response. It is virtually instantaneous, and appears to come from seemingly out of nowhere.

There does not seem to be any obvious connection between the actions and the results, yet somehow life responds to these changes in our inner behavior. That is the case because life is organized in ways that defy our normal perceptions of cause and effect, and space and time. There are movements, workings, and unfoldings in life that are hidden from us; that defy our ability to perceive them. However, if we develop a certain subtle power of awareness, we can perceive these life movements, and then learn to harness that knowledge to attract vast accomplishment and success. The above example of attention to money and how it generates a sudden, abundant life response is but one example of this extraordinary power.

Over the decades, we have seen that there are at least a dozen key human behaviors that trigger these instances of sudden good fortune. E.g. in addition to giving attention to finances to attract money, being as careful and prompt in paying our debts also tends to attract instances of good fortune.

This is especially true for settling old debts. E.g., one individual owed a friend money for over twenty years. Within minutes of committing to paying that old debt, he was told that he had been offered a new spacious place to live -- this after having lived in the same cramped apartment for twenty years! That is the power of committing to paying off an old debt.

Greater attention to business accounts, proper handling of money, et al are, in essence, higher forms of organization. In fact, whenever we make a serious effort to raise our level of personal organization, life tends to move in our favor. In particular, we have seen that higher levels of cleanliness tend to elicit very powerful positive responses from life. Consider this true-life experience:

An instructor had been without training and consulting work for weeks, and was in desperate straits. He did not know what to do, but decided to raise his level of cleanliness. His apartment was normally quite clean, but he wanted to take cleanliness a step further. Therefore, he decided to clean his refrigerator. Well, at the exact moment he finished putting the foodstuffs back after that exhaustive effort of cleaning, he received a call from his training company offering him months' worth of new work! The response from life was instantaneous and overwhelmingly powerful!

While cleaning and ordering objects have a vast power to attract sudden good fortune, so does giving them more attention.

Luck is subconscious life response.
Life response is the capacity to create luck.
- From 'The Book' by Garry Jacobs

Consider this true incident: A wine seller in Asia had very low sales. A consultant noticed that the seller had ignored stocks of old wine that were not selling. He asked the seller to make a full effort to clean those stocks, even though he could not imagine how such an action could possibly improve things. The seller however in the end agreed to this course of action. Within a few short weeks, the seller not only found someone to purchase his entire inventory of old stocks, but he received new orders for sales equal to a whole half years' worth of revenues!

That is the power of giving objects greater levels of attention. Life suddenly responds out of all proportion!

The Power of Attitudes to Attract

You can also attract overwhelming good fortune by overcoming a negative attitude, such as a hostile feeling towards another person. This is perhaps the most powerful psychological method to attract good fortune.

A woman worked part time for over a decade, hoping during that time to secure a full-time position. One day she decided that her negative attitudes towards certain people should come to an end. Within a few days, she received a full time job from the company she had been temping at -- her first full-time position in ten years!

LIFE RESPONSE VIDEOS

Life always responds to a change in one's attitudes. Here is another example:

A man lost a lot of borrowed money by speculating in the stock market. After a time all of his shares became worthless. In fact, he paid interest on the borrowed money by borrowing more money. One day, he didn't have any more cash left to pay the interest. Slowly, he began to realize his folly. First, he decided to stop speculating. Then he decided not to borrow any more money to pay the interest. He made a firm decision, and remained calm thereafter. Though he didn't know what to do next, he stuck to his decision.

After a day or two, he read in a newspaper that a certain company was being taken over by another company. The share price started its upward journey and within a few days, it hit $20. He sold them and had the money to meet his obligation.

Life will suddenly and abundantly respond to any attempt to shed a wanting attitude. It also responds to making a decision, or taking to a course of action when one was reluctant or otherwise unable to take to it before. Consider this episode:

A man worked at a computer store, but was reluctant to work weekends. He was in the lower tier of monthly sales among his fellow salespeople. He then changed his attitude, and made the decision to work weekends. The first Saturday he appeared at the store, the first customer he waited on placed the biggest order of his career! That in turn kicked off the highest sales month he ever experienced in his life. Moreover, it also turned out to be the highest sales month by a salesperson that the 4-store chain he worked at ever experienced. He not only rocketed to the top of his sales group, but made more money in the next few months than he ever had in his life.

That is the power of making a firm decision in the right direction and acting on it. Changes in attitude, in combinations with taking to a decision and action have an overwhelming power to invoke good fortune from the world around us.

Theme of this Month - Token Effort

Power of Token Positive Effort Beyond Resistance

Making a small token effort in a positive direction that has been previously resisted by the majority can open the floodgates to new support from most unexpected sources. People may complain about the original initiative, but they are deafeningly silent when the world suddenly rushes in to support it.

When life is not moving for you, making the right token effort in a certain direction will energize conditions, opening the floodgates.

Theme of this Month –

Token Effort

Often when we are in a very negative situation, and we don't see any clear way forward,

life is asking us to just make the smallest token effort; to do anything we know how to get the ball rolling.

When we make that smallest effort,

life can respond,

and completely wipe out the negative conditions.

Token Effort Case Study – Token Initiative/Do What You Can

One powerful method of attracting good fortune (i.e. Life Response) is that in any difficult situation, including a hopeless one, look around, think about it and DO WHAT YOU CAN, even the smallest thing. It can open up vast opportunities you would never have dreamed of.

A man had just lost his entire business and his home on top of that. He was living at a friend's house who was away for a while. The man did not know what to do with his life. One thing he thought of however, was to look for a job in the paper for a sales position. ANY sales position!

To his surprise, several weeks later he secured a job for an Energy Conservation company nearby to sell energy saving products. Soon after he was made sales manager for that division, and thereby organized a team of sales people to do what he had done before. While on the job he helped develop a spreadsheet program that calculated energy savings for the client if they purchased his team's products. He enjoyed this and as a result he took an interest in the personal computer, a fledgling technology at the time.

Several months later, he became a computer sales person, which kicked off a 30 year career in that field that he practices till this day.

By doing what he could in that original desperate situation, by making that token gesture to seek sales employment of any sort, his entire world quickly changed! It was an overwhelming response from life due to a small token initiative for improvement.

Further comment:

When you are in a desperate situation, you need solutions, wherever it comes from. Calling to Mother is always the first option. She can then reveal tiny openings that we should take and not ignore. Or we simply perceive them without having opened to Mother. They are just there.

When something is going to fall on your head, that is Life's Initiatives. If you are in a desperate situation that too is Life's Initiative. In both cases something needs to be done whether or not you open to Mother. In these situations, life always opens a crack for possibilities through which we can act.

Token Effort case study : Token Effort of Giving Out Cards Attracts

Sometimes life requires us to make a small, token effort in one area in order to attract positive conditions in another.

An instructor and consultant had not received any training inquiries in quite a while. In addition, several other paying projects were coming to an end. And so he wondered where his next set of funds would come from. A month passed, and his concern only mounted.

Then he came to know about a small opportunity. Rather than forget about it, in deference to the bigger issues he was confronted with, he saw the small, somewhat humiliating effort as a kind of stepping stone in consciousness that could draw the larger paying works toward him.

And so he began giving out many cards at many locations in order to fulfill the small token work. Well, it turns out that after only one hour of making this multi-day effort, he received a sole email in his Inbox in which he was offered a substantial amount of training work, when he hadn't had any in months!

By making the token effort in a relatively small ego-deflating area, he was able to attract a result in another area of greater concern. He smiled as this happened, as he had experienced this dynamic not a few times in his life!

True Life Incidents

Desperate Instructor Evokes Months of Work by Cleaning Refrigerator

One day many years ago, I found myself in an awful predicament. Because I had not worked in weeks, perhaps months, my financial position had completely deteriorated. To make things worse, I had no idea how to remedy the situation. And so I sat there confused, helpless, frozen in time; and with every passing day, my situation became ever more perilous.

Then one day, I thought of something rather unusual. Since I wasn't doing anything worthwhile, why not take the time and clean out my refrigerator. After all, it hadn't been attended to for months -- perhaps years! -- and besides, what else was there to do with my time? And so without further hesitation, I took up that daunting task.

First, I began to remove all of the foodstuffs inside the box. Then I got down on my hands and knees, and proceeded to scrape away all of the crust and grime that had accumulated along the edges. Straining this way and that, I scraped and scrubbed until the refrigerator was spotless. After I was done, I slowly raised myself up from that strenuous effort, and let out a deep sigh.

As I stood there with my heart beating rapidly, I noticed that I still hadn't finished the job: that the food I removed earlier was still piled high on the counter. And so I proceeded to return each of these items to their proper shelves. With that last task completed, I now felt relieved that the grueling episode was finally over.

Except there was one more thing ...

At the exact moment that I finished putting everything back, the telephone rang. I then scurried over to my answering machine, and carefully listened to the incoming message. It turned out to be my agent -- the person who provided me with the bulk of my instructional work. She was now leaving a message that I had been assigned to a host of new projects, and would I please call back as soon as possible!

When I heard the news, I experienced a surge of energy, which expressed in two ways. On the one hand, I was both stunned and overjoyed that I now had a steady stream of good-paying work to carry me through the coming months. On the other, I knew that because I had made the intense physical effort to clean my refrigerator, I had attracted a magnificent response from life.

Life Response Seen in Great Literature, Film

One of the best ways to observe life -- including the miraculous-like phenomenon of life response -- is to read the great literature of the world. From such works, not only are we privy to the many fascinating experiences of its characters, but with a sharp eye, we can detect a number of powerful life response results as well.

It turns out that there is one great work of literature that I have found particularly compelling when it comes to life response. It is Jane Austen's masterwork Pride and Prejudice. Its rich story, its variety of fascinating characters, and its several dramatic turns not only contribute to an absorbing read, but also reveals a cascade of powerful life response incidents.

Great literature as well as great cinema can serve as an invaluable instrument for perceiving and understanding the phenomenon of life response.

By presenting us with a diversity of characters navigating their way through an array of situations and circumstance, these fictional forms not only help us observe the subtle and not so subtle unfoldings of life, but are windows into the inner and outer behaviors that attract these miraculous-like results.

And yet great literature and cinema will only reveal these profound insights if we are willing to penetrate the surface narrative, delve deeper, and discover the subtle causality at work. Then these works will reveal all of life's marvelous secrets, so we too can quickly attract the miraculous.

The next time you watch a film, look out for one or two life response incidents in the story. For example, if there is a sudden positive development in the plotline, see if you can trace it back to a person's shift in attitude, or a decision or action taken, or the expression of intense desire or intention.

Do the same for negative life response. When ill fortune arrives, trace it back to a wrong movement on the part of that or another individual.

The next time there is a positive or negative development in your own life, see if you can relate it to a previous behavior on your part. If there is a positive result, try reinforcing the behavior that precipitated it. If it is negative, try avoiding it in future.

Inter-Related Life Response in Pride & Prejudice

We perceive a life response, even its cause if we are subtly perceptive. What we miss is that several responses occur that are parallel to our own, yet are somehow related. In other words, these response "move together," yet are seemingly independent and apart.

For example, Mr. Darcy in Pride and Prejudice solves the elopement problem winning Eliza, but Mr. Bennet's change in consciousness in which he shifted from indifference to a promise to take care of his daughters, attracted Darcy resolving the elopement, which saves Mr. Bennet and his family from shape and economic ruin. Meanwhile, Eliza comes to realize that her younger sister Lydia was out of control, and her infatuation with Wickham were misguided, which attracts Darcy after the elopement, who then proposes to her when she had given up all hope that he cared. She accepts, and her and her family derive great benefit.

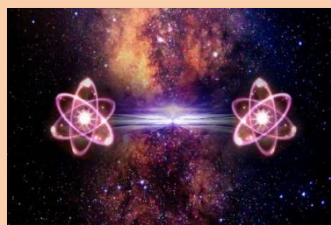

Thus in these situations many life response move in parallel or together and are related to one another. Karmayogi indicates that one particular response is the Leader of all the others. In this case, it is the role of Darcy, as his love for Eliza drives him to change his nature and prove it by overcoming the mess of the elopement, which enables all other life responses to take shape. Darcy is thus the driver of a series of life incidents that move together, are related to one another.

Life is Responding to us
at every moment...

...if we are conscious enough we can perceive it

Science Validates Life Response

Life response is a real phenomenon of life, and it is based on a fundamental oneness between the inner and the outer, several other issues suggest themselves.

For example, though we have identified the mechanics behind this miraculous-like event, we have not yet identified the force or power that enables it to happen: i.e. the substance that binds the inner person and the outer world. Second, we still do not know why a particular object or individual -- in this case, my agent -- suddenly appears on the scene and works on my behalf. Why not someone else; or no one at all? Finally, we do not know why this individual or object brings me good fortune. Why not something neutral, or even negative?

Surprisingly, recent developments in the world of science may shed some light on these issues. Extraordinary findings in the field of quantum physics -- i.e. the study of the very small -- confirm that there can be an instantaneous connection between physical objects that are extremely far apart.

For example, for over half a century scientists have known that a shift in the “spin” of an electron of an atom can instantly affect the spin of another electron of that same atom even if the two particles are on opposite sides of the world -- or the other end of the galaxy! Like the principle of inner-outer correspondence, the phenomenon of “non-local connections” between objects corroborates the fact that there is an extraordinary, super-subtle relationship between objects, defying our commonly held beliefs about what is possible; of how cause and effect interrelate; and the nature of space and time.

The difference, however, is that whereas the scientific view of non-local connections indicates that changes in material properties -- like the spin of atoms -- can affect related properties of objects thousands of miles away, the principle of inner-outer correspondence extends that to include non-material changes as well, including variations and fluctuations in our feelings, emotions, attitudes, thoughts, and beliefs. Thus, if I change my emotions and attitude here, it can instantaneously connect with and attract good fortune from another object or individual from anywhere on earth.

Realization of Mistake Attracts Instant Improved Condition

[When you realize you have done the wrong thing and feel a sense of contrition for the fact, good fortune will tend to quickly move in your direction. Consider this true-life story from a friend of ours.]

"This happened recently when I visited a bank nearby to withdraw some cash. I entered the bank and pulled a token for myself and started waiting. I realized that at least 15 members were waiting before me and I had to wait for nearly half-an-hour for my turn.

Meanwhile I thought of purchasing some groceries from nearby shops and then come back. But before stepping out of the bank, I decided to do be a clever woman. I pulled out another token for myself so that even if I had to miss my turn for the previous token I can still use the current token.

After finishing my purchases from all shops, I came back to the bank only to realize that the previous token number was about to be called. There was a woman with a preceding token number doing some transactions and I was waiting for my turn. I was happy that the next would be my turn. When the woman was done, the cashier was about to press the buzzer, but all of a sudden, she stopped and came out of her place and went somewhere. I started waiting for more than 5 minutes. I was irritated as how this could happen only to me.

I started waiting and suddenly I asked myself whether I committed anything wrong. I realized that I shouldn't have taken 2 tokens. I should not have taken chances and acted like an overly clever lady. As soon as I realized that, the cashier came in and took her seat and pressed the button to call my token number! I was thrilled!"

BUSINESS TIP!

Power of Applying Values in the Details

The key to Values in business is not just having them and including them in your mission and strategic plan, but to implement them in every activity, system, project, and procedure in the organization, with specifics and standards of how that value is to be applied there. In this way we push values deep into the heart of the organization, creating maximum practical and life response effect.

The Inside and Outside are one and the same or in other words the Outer is only an extension of the Inner.

What is present as consciousness inside gets extended as objective reality outside. - N. Asokan

Understanding Life Response through Mythical stories

In one variation of the story, Ganesh, in trying to win the prize of Life, walked around his Mother, the divine Mother encompassing a few meters. His brother walked around the world, which is 40,000 kilometers over many months and years.

Ganesh instantly attracted all the solutions of Life by consecrating to the divine Mother (to supramental power) with hardly any motion, while his brother labored for years travelling around the world with limited results.

Essentially Ganesh gained all the rewards from within, from Mother. If we are sincere in this movement, we can do the same.

Another Opportunity to Correct a Previous Problem, and the Response from Life

If you are conscious of a problem you have partaken in, life will soon or down the line offer another similar opportunity to do the right thing, which when done successfully will also have the power to quickly attract positive conditions from the original matter.

Example: An instructor had a difficult situation with a client. There was plenty of blame to go around. It all started when the client asked the instructor about a particular obscure issue that the instructor was unable to provide an answer for. The instructor consecrated his part in the debacle. After this difficult set of classes, the instructor did not know how much to bill the client, if anything at all since things had gone so poorly. He forgot the matter, and let things fall as they may.

A month later, the instructor's agent called and asked him to contact another existing client who had some technical questions. When he spoke to the client, he was suddenly struck by the negative tone of the conversation, and the very obscure issue that the client was frustrated by. Suddenly the instructor recalled that it was the same obscure issue as the previous very difficult experience with the other client that took place a month ago! The chance of this happening was one in a million, as this was the first contact he was in touch with in nearly a month, and it was on the very same very obscure subject matter!

Roy's Corner

The instructor knew that this was no coincidence, but rather here was a deep connection between these two events, and he should therefore do his very best to please the current client, which he did. As he did so he kept reminding himself that there was direct connection between the two events, and this was a chance to redeem himself, which he did.

When he ended the phone conversation with the client, he saw a solitary email in his inbox, and it was from his agent, indicating he amount he should bill the first client for. This too was a miracle, as it happened an instance after talking with the second client and the fact that a month had gone past since any discussion had taken place on the issue. Now the amount to bill the first client was given, when he thought there was a chance he would not be able to charge anything. The instantaneousness of the response was astonishing. It was obviously a dramatic positive response from life.

As we see, when you are conscious of a problem we have been a part of in the past, life may very well soon or down the line offer another similar opportunity that will enable you to do right thing, which when done successfully will also have the power to quickly attract positive conditions.

STRATEGIES TO INSTANTLY ATTRACT MONEY INTO YOUR LIFE

- ❖ Money is a force. It is a concentrated symbol of energy and power in life. Like all forces in the universe, money obeys certain universal laws or principles.
- ❖ By understanding those laws and acting appropriately, we gain a great power over money, enabling wealth and prosperity to come our way.
- ❖ Most of us are aware of the importance of hard work, determination, and drive to attract money. However, there are also other, more hidden and subtle ways to attract money, wealth, and prosperity. When followed, these methods have a tendency to instantly attract money from seemingly out of nowhere, defying our normal notions of cause and effect, and what is logical and possible.
- ❖ Such sudden and abundant results are indications of the wondrous phenomenon of "life response" at work.
