

LIFE RESPONSE

Magazine

Evoke sudden good fortune!

2019 Edition

“State of Beingness”

LIFE RESPONDS TO-

- Mental Silence
- Silent Will
- Non-Reaction
- Not Complaining
- Reduced Speaking
- Not Initiating

Welcome!

Welcome to Life Response Magazine.

We have so many wonders to share with you! Content that can help you understand how to reach the pinnacles of success and inner fulfillment by attracting sudden good fortune from out of thin air.

Please browse the table of contents that follows to discover the wide variety of interesting topics on the miraculous phenomenon of Life Response.

In particular, consider the two main themes presented in this issue: “State of Beingness” and “Changing Habit, the Routine.”

May this Knowledge lift you to the stars!

-Roy Posner, Cofounder, Author

CONTENTS

Intro to Life Response

Theme of the Month
– State of Beingness

Non-Reaction Power

Equanimity Power

Power of Silence

You Can Make Life
Instantly Respond

Changing Habit, the Routine Attracts

Quantum Entanglement

Strategies to Attract Money

Roy's Corner

Learning

Quote of the Month

Truisms of Life

Business Tip

Test Life Response Skills!

Life Response Videos

View, Download Life Response Books

Advertisements

Contact Us

All rights reserved 2018

INTRO TO LIFE RESPONSE

(by Sri Karmayogi)

An American businessman who promised an Indian fertilizer company a 70 crore loan from a bank, met the Bank of America officers in 1972. In those times, these were novel ideas but he was determined to call at as many banks as necessary. Bank of America said that only 2 days earlier they had opened their South-East Asian fertilizer division! It was a startling response from Life.

In pursuit of an important work, we want to meet a friend whom we have not met for a few years. On leaving our house, in a pleasant surprise, he enters our house. Life is full of such strange events. Literature too is teeming with such incidents.

History has the same character. I call this phenomenon of ready help coming in an inconceivable fashion 'Life Response'. "Thank God, you have come," we exclaim. We also feel we are in luck. We are right.

But this is not the caprice of Life. There is a law behind such occurrences. Some half a dozen such events described in detail and the laws underlying explained will make it clear that such phenomena follow their own rules. One who knows such rules will always discern how such events come to pass. There is more.

Should one not submit to life, but rise above the social average and evoke the Spirit, he can make Life Respond. Life Response is a known phenomenon, not the capacity to evoke a Life Response. Still it is not totally unknown in life. Extraordinarily courageous people say, "Well, I have never been let down". Optimistic persons, when their hopeless project comes round, say, "I know it will come round." It can come round to anyone who relies on the Spirit.

Life Response is practiced to convert human life into divine life. To know each value of ours very well and convert it into Mother's value is a step that will set Life Response into its right context.

- Sri Karmayogi

Theme of the Month –
State of “Beingness”

One of the poises of the Supreme Consciousness is “Silent Witness” to the world. I.e. just observing its Creation; "Being."

Beingness & Life Response

We too can take that perspective through various inner means, -- such as Non-Reaction, Non-Blaming, and Silence of Thought and Action, -- each of which can attract sudden good fortune; i.e. the most positive conditions from life.

Theme of the Month –
The State of “Beingness”

Not Speaking

Not Complaining

Not Blaming

Not Reacting

Equality of Being

Non-Reaction Power

We are always engaging with life.

Normally we observe what is taking place, and are constantly reacting to it.

But in a state of Silent Witness, of "Beingness", we are still; we do not react. We simply observe, without judgment. Yet we take it all in.

And yet we have seen that when an individual remains still and does not react to the intensities of life -- such as another's anger directed toward him -- good fortune tends to follow.

Or to put it another way, practicing the art of "Non-Reaction" rapidly attracts positive conditions from life.

At least once, Life Response should reveal itself as the full abundance of the whole plane of Life into our own life. - Sri Karmayogi

Non Reaction – Case Study

Not Reacting to Negative of Customer Opens Door to Vast Opportunity

Mark started his career as an account manager for Software Spectrum. He was responsible for closing multi-year, third-party software contracts, and he had just taken over the US Bancorp account as a client. During a meeting, two managers from US Bancorp told Mark in no uncertain tones that Spectrum was US Bancorp's worst vendor. Till then, Spectrum had only earned 10% of US Bancorp's software business, about $100,000.

Learning of his client's serious dissatisfaction, Mark did not react. He decided instead to reverse the situation in the coming year.

Over the next several months, Mark did extensive internal research and conducted personal interviews to discover what his clients expected from their business relationship.

He asked lots of questions about their challenges & goals for the coming year. As he got to know the client better, he always asked how he might be able to help each person with his job. Within 9 months of consistent face-to-face communication, the attitude of the US Bancorp's officials towards Spectrum completely changed. They said that Spectrum had become one of the best companies they worked with in the software field.

By not reacting to the negative feedback given by the customer, Mark converted the objection into an opportunity to build trust with the customer. He increased his company's market share to 90% and increased sales from $100,000 to over $2.2 million with US Bancorp.

Equanimity Power

As soon as you accept a difficult situation with good cheer, it immediately gets reversed.

Example: A man was asked to begin a class very early in the morning. It seemed to be asking too much. Yet he reacted positively in all respects.

A moment later, the class was scheduled by the client with a much more moderate starting time. It was the life response result of practicing calm and equality of being in a difficult situation. It is what we normally mean by the term "Equanimity," but with a positive "Life Response" twist!

A great Power of “Beingness” is SILENCE

-Silence in our thoughts (mental)

-Silence in our emotions (vital)

-Silence in our speech, actions (physical)

When we restrain ourselves and take to Silence in any of these ways, Life Responds!

LET’S EXAMINE EXAMPLES OF EACH ...

Silence in our Thoughts (Mental)

One evening several years ago, I was on my way home from a 2-day presentation I had given in San Francisco. Because it was rush hour, the train was stuffed with people, making it uncomfortable for everyone, including myself -- especially since my legs now ached from several days of standing in front of an audience. In addition, I sensed a particularly negative vibration in the train that seemed to add to the strain.

A minute later, my "inner guide" suggested a different approach. Rather than bother with the turbulence on the outside, why not empty my mind of all thoughts. And so I relaxed, closed my eyes, and let the world disappear. In a few moments, all thinking stopped and I found myself staring into a block of white emptiness. It was a most relaxing and soothing meditative experience that lasted five or ten minutes.

When we arrived at the next station, there was an announcement that a less crowded train was two minutes behind.

When I heard the message, I quickly got up, exited the train, and waited on the platform for it to arrive.

Interestingly, I noticed that when my own crowded train pulled away, few of the other passengers had taken up the conductor's offer -- meaning that I was practically all alone in the station. It was an eerie yet wonderful feeling, as there was now so much quiet and empty space around me.

Several minutes later, the next train arrived as advertised. I then hopped on board, looked around, and noticed that it was almost empty -- an extremely rare occurrence during the rush hour. I then found a comfortable seat and enjoyed a wonderfully relaxing commute home.

In this episode, life on the outside quickly responded to my inner effort of mental silence. When I decided to stop thinking about the congestion and negative atmosphere -- wiping all thoughts from my mind through a meditative effort -- life quickly responded when an announcement was made of a far less crowded train following behind.

You could say that the emptiness of thoughts in my mind attracted a train that was itself empty.

In any case, it turned out to be the perfect antidote to a very tense and difficult situation! -- Roy Posner

Silence in our Emotions (Vital)

Non-Reaction in the Face of Anger Wins Over Customer

One Friday evening, Betsy received a call from her most important customer. The customer sounded upset over a discrepancy in his invoice. Betsy was calm and replied "I am sorry about the discrepancy. I will check into this and get back to you tomorrow."

The customer continued shouting at Betsy. Betsy did not lose her calm and promised the customer that she would surely resolve his problem the next day after collecting the relevant information to rectify the error. Betsy took responsibility for the situation. She prepared and gathered all the invoices related to the discrepancy.

Early next morning, she visited the customer and met him in a cheerful manner without showing any traces of having been scolded by him. The customer immediately reversed his anger and was very happy at the end of their meeting.

Betsy had not just solved the customer's problem, but she went on to become one of the customer's favorite salespersons.

By not reacting to the customer's anger, taking responsibility, and doing what was necessary, she developed a strong long-term business relationship with this customer.

Silence in our Speech/Action (Physical)

Restraint, Silent Will, and the Software Application

Silently willing something from another, yet not speaking it out, or being over-eager to present it, or being overly attached for others' acceptance, soon attracts the original intention, and then some.

A man developed a sophisticated program for his work group. He mentioned it once before, and it received a mild positive reaction the first time it was distributed to the team. Now he remained silent about further developments in the program. He held back from verbalizing to others the improvements he made. He was even reluctant to send the program out to others, holding back as much as possible, as he knew the life response power of restraint.

When he did send the new version, he expected little in return, but instead received a tremendous positive reaction from his work partner. By restraining one's self and practicing Silent Will - i.e. holding back verbalization of one's intent, - parties that were lukewarm or indifferent now come rushing to you with appreciation.

You Can Make Life Instantly Respond!

(continued from last month...)

Normally, we believe that taking an action on our part brings about a corresponding result in life. This is of course true. There is also a secret knowledge that certain changes in our behavior can instantly evoke good fortune from the world around us. We call this dramatic phenomenon "life response."

Among the factors discussed in the last issue were: Higher Levels of Cleanliness, Orderliness, and Attention Attract; and The Power of Attitudes to Attract

The Power of Silence to Attract

There are a number of other ways to make life respond. E.g., one way is to improve yourself -- such as by acquiring new knowledge about a subject, or by learning a new skill. Consider this true story, where one individual tried to improve his skill, and got an unexpected life response result:

A man hadn't had a consulting project of any substantial size in over half a year.

He then decided to improve his professional condition by learning an important new skill. Within a few days, he was contacted unsolicited by a major industrial firm in the Central Valley of California to do a large consulting project, his first in nearly half a year of trying.

Silent Will

In addition to proactively changing your condition, such as taking to higher levels of organization, you can also invoke sudden good fortune by restraining yourself.

E.g. rather than expressing a thought you want to relate to another person, you can withhold it's expression, which will cause the other person to speak it out shortly after. We call this inner, mental-restraining approach to life response, "Silent Will." Here's an example, involving a business colleague of ours:

A management consultant was meeting with a high-level executive of one of the largest companies in the US in order to secure interviews with top-level management for a book he was writing. The executive however rejected him outright, giving various reasons why the consultant's request could not be heeded. Rather than respond, the consultant decided to practice Silent Will, restraining himself from expressing the reasons why he believed the executive was in error.

Stunningly, a few minutes later, the executive completely reversed himself, and began to express several reasons why the consultant's request was valid!

He then not only acceded to the interviews, but a long-time business relationship was forged between the consultant and that major US corporation!

When we remain silent in these situations, we release a solid block of mental and vital energy into the atmosphere that others feel compelled to speak out. In that way, our intentions are expressed through another person without our having to communicate it in the first place. Such "Silent Will" is but one of a number of inner powers of life available to us.

Equality of Being

Another power of silence is that of "Equality of Being." If we remain calm and still when a difficult situation presents itself, the problem tends to quickly dissipate.

One man did not react to the fact that a client was going to pay a bill in 60 days instead of the normal 2 weeks. A short time later, he was informed that in fact the bill had been paid the very next day via credit card! A 60-day bill had triune into a 2-day one! That is the power of remaining still and silent, practicing equality of being in the midst of tense or otherwise difficult situations.

Consecrated Activity

Finally, there is one other inner power that can attract the miraculous. If we open ourselves to the spiritual Force before engaging in an activity, circumstances will quickly move in our favor, as life cooperates with us from all quarters. Here's an example:

An instructor's class was going very poorly one morning. Nothing seemed to go right. He then decided to consecrate the afternoon session by offering it to the Higher Power. Thereafter, every conceivable thing went smoothly.

In addition, a palpable peace and richness could be felt in the classroom throughout the remainder of the day.

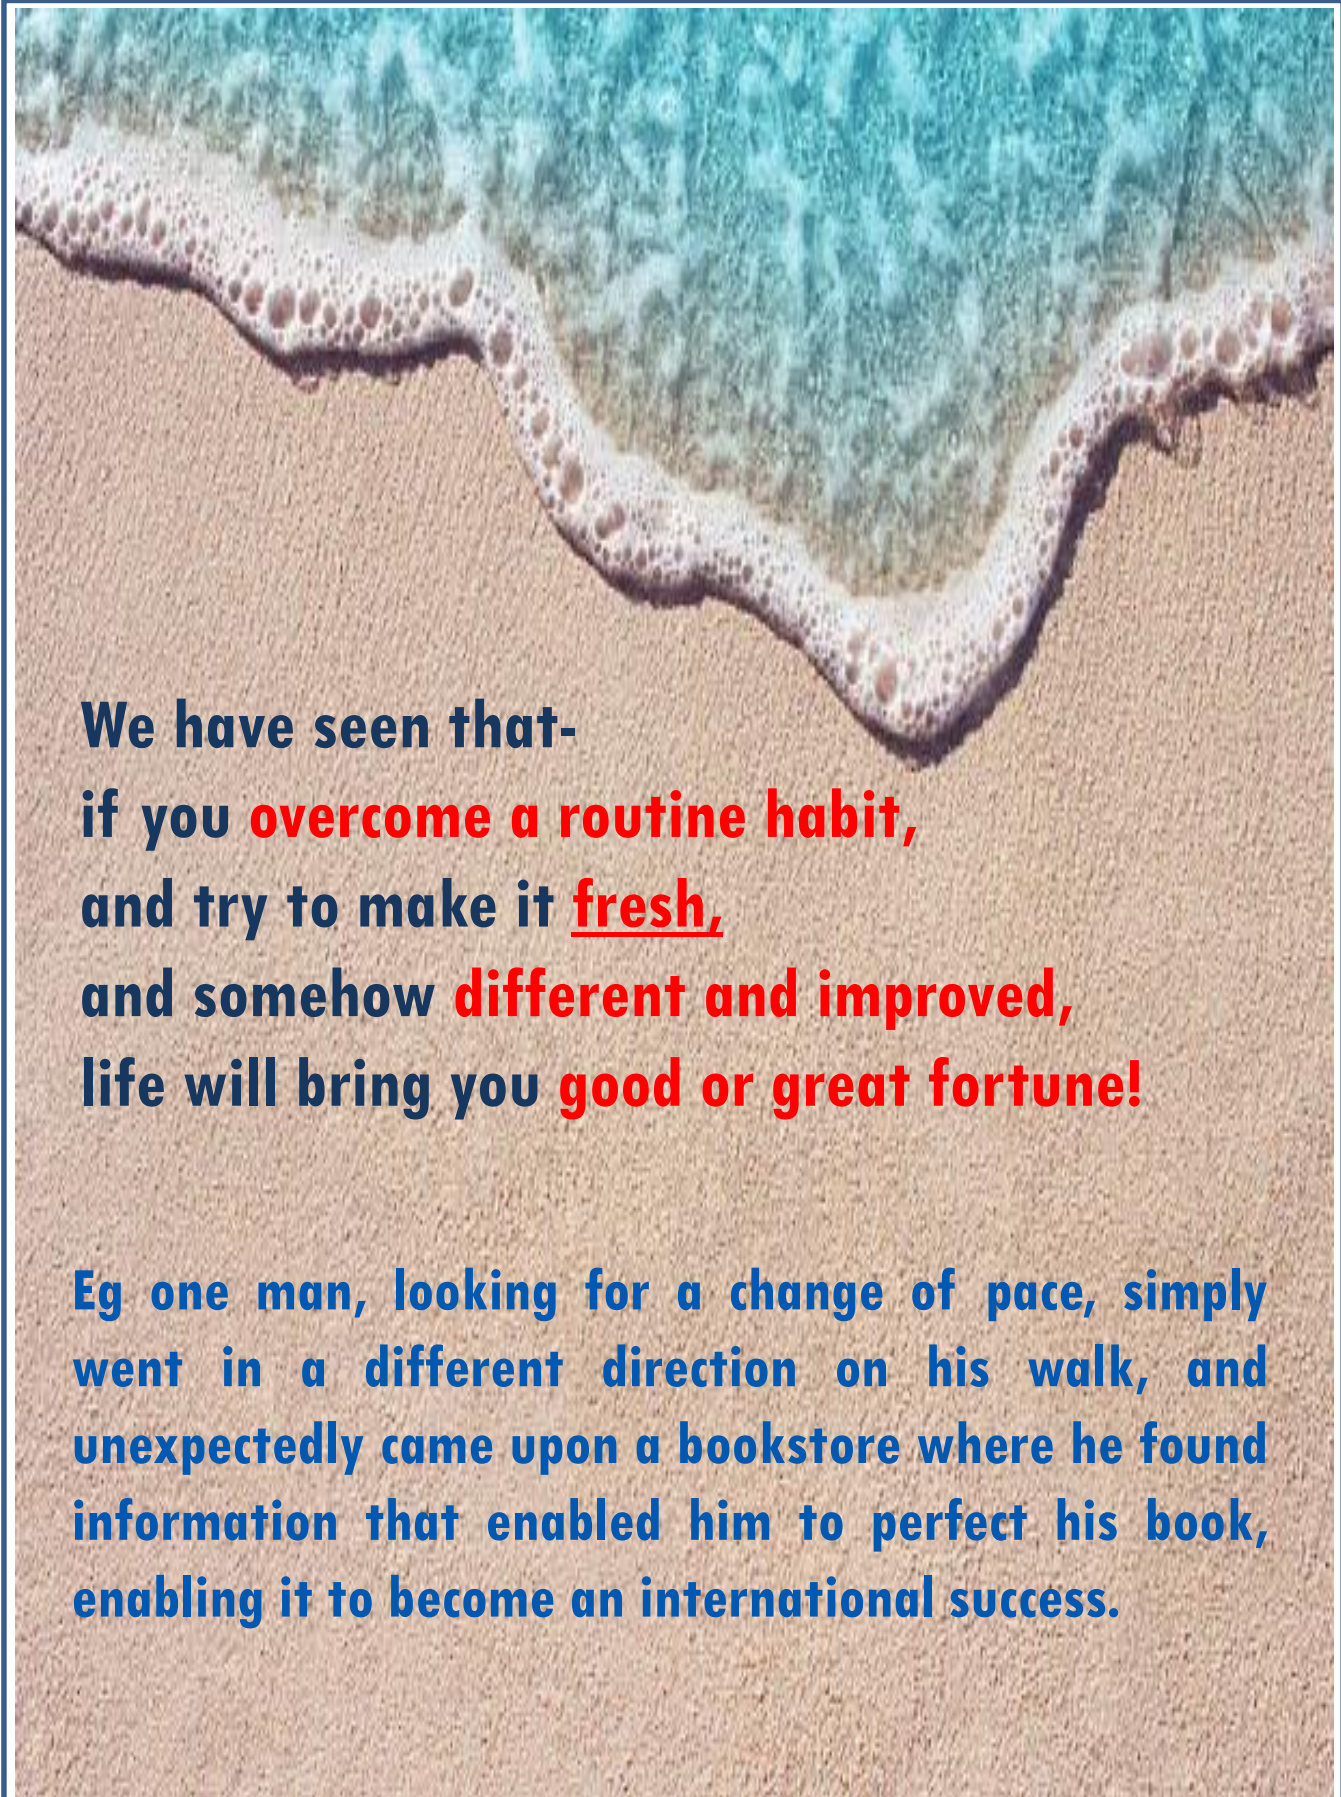

Anyone who has experienced the power of the spiritual Force in action but once in their lives will be changed forever.

To download the full document,
Click here: Life Response Center

CHANGING HABIT, THE ROUTINE ATTRACTS

We have seen that-if you overcome a routine habit,
and try to make it fresh,
and somehow different and improved,
life will bring you good or great fortune!*

Eg one man, looking for a change of pace, simply went in a different direction on his walk, and unexpectedly came upon a bookstore where he found information that enabled him to perfect his book, enabling it to become an international success.

As we see, when we perform an act in a fresh, new way, rather than in the tired old way, life immediately opens up before us.

When we get off the dime and move away from our physical consciousness that is fixed and wants to repeat, we open the portals of possibility.

It is another wonderful reminder that every moment we are offered the opportunity to break old habits and quickly attract the infinite to our doorstep.

CHANGING HABITS, THE ROUTINE ATTRACTS

Author Takes Different Approach with Browser, Enabling Self-Publishing of Book

For several years, I have been self-publishing my books through Lulu Press, a wonderful online system that is an alternative to traditional book production. An author goes to their website, supplies the manuscript file, selects a look for the covers, and Lulu produces a book template available to the public. The consumer can then purchase a volume to order, 1 or 100, and have it shipped within a few days. It is a major revolution in the book-publishing field.

For a number of years, I have had little problems using the service. Recently, however, I have been trying to publish a new book and ran into several problems. The main one is that when I send my Microsoft Word file to the site, the Lulu wizard would not accept it. For a month, I struggled to get a version of the file uploaded to Lulu so I could complete the book publishing cycle.

Then I recalled that several associates of mine were using the Mozilla Firefox web browser instead of Microsoft's Internet Explorer browser.

It was something I had never tried before, nor did I see a reason to. I sometimes even wondered why my friends were using it. I heard it was a little faster, but that did not seem enough to take me away from Internet Explorer. In any case, one morning, frustrated with my lack of success in uploading my latest book, and not having gotten a credible response from Lulu, I decided to change my routine and download the Firefox browser.

Then I went to the Lulu site and tried uploading my manuscript through Firefox. A moment later, I was shocked to see that not only did my manuscript file take the first time around, but I was able to get through all the publishing steps in record time!

Later in the week, I made further changes to the manuscript, and was very quickly able to create a revision at Lulu.

For me, it was a marvel to behold, as weeks if not months of frustration had now suddenly ended.

-Roy Posner

Quantum Entanglement and Simultaneous Time

Science has a partial explanation of Life Response. Quantum Theory indicates that two particles on either end of the universe can instantly affect one another. If one shifts on one end of the universe, so will another on the other side.

This is the phenomenon of “Entanglement.” This indicates that when we raise our consciousness, something nearby or at a great distance instantly or very quickly responds in the positive.

Now Quantum physics has gone a further step, indicating that a change in the spin of a particle can cause the response of another at great distance over TIME. I.e. cause a spin in the present to effect the second particle in the Future or the Past.

It is essentially Entanglement across past, present, and future.

That what I think or feel or do in the present automatically affects future or present circumstance; aligning ourselves with positive developments in both future and present. It also happens in the negative (negative life response).

It is another confirmation of Sri Aurobindo’s cosmic concept “Simultaneous Time,” which is the nature of the Reality that we are capable of experiencing and realizing as we grow in consciousness and move toward becoming divine, Supramental beings.

There are gaps in our consciousness that get filled through the pain of experience. However, through conscious growth we avoid the rigors of time, self-educating ourselves about the nature of Reality, thereby filling the gaps quickly, evoking the best of conditions.

It is the Sunlit Path.

Saturation of a plane with organization enables it to evoke a life response.

- From ‘The Book’ by Garry Jacobs

Life Response-TIP of the month

When we clean up what is filthy, or strewn about haphazardly, or otherwise looks unpleasant, and then add a modicum of orderliness to that effort, we generate concentrated energies that attract fortuitous circumstance, such as –

- a sudden spurt in sales
- a great improvement in cash position
- an unexpected significant opportunity

Cleanliness and Orderliness Checklist

Checklist:

- | | | |
|---|--|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> My Desk | <input type="checkbox"/> My To Do List | <input type="checkbox"/> My Living Space |
| <input type="checkbox"/> My Files | <input type="checkbox"/> My Calendar | <input type="checkbox"/> My Auto |
| <input type="checkbox"/> My Computer Apps | <input type="checkbox"/> My Hygiene | <input type="checkbox"/> My Storage Facility |
| <input type="checkbox"/> My Workspace | <input type="checkbox"/> My Appearance | <input type="checkbox"/> My Accounts |
| <input type="checkbox"/> My Storage Space | <input type="checkbox"/> My Wardrobe | <input type="checkbox"/> Other? |

Strategies to Instantly Attract Money into Your Life

(continued from last month...)

Money is a force. It is a concentrated symbol of energy and power in life. Like all forces in the universe, money obeys certain universal laws or principles. By understanding those laws and acting appropriately, we gain a great power over money, enabling wealth and prosperity to come our way.

Attention

It is a basic law of life that everything -- whether it is a physical object or a human being -- responds to greater attention. Money is no exception. The best way to give attention to money is to account for it accurately and in a timely manner. Keeping precise and up-to-date accounts of money is a powerful mechanism for suddenly attracting more of it.

-One small business owner balanced eight months of back bank statements in a weekend, and received $5000 from nowhere the next day.

-An individual noticed that an idle machine had become run-down, so he decided to clean and fix it. Within a few days, a new work project suddenly sprung up where this very machine was required.

The project, using that machine, became a huge new source of income for the business.

Circulation

Like any force, money needs to move freely in order to sustain itself. Holding back on paying, or otherwise hoarding money, prevents the free flow of energy, and thus the free flow of money.

For example, we have seen a number of instances where individuals were unwilling to pay the bills they owed until they first received payments of money due to them. Reversing such an attitude can bring a sudden abundant positive response from life.

A programmer, who had little cash on hand, was unwilling to write out checks for current bills due until he received money owed him from his clients. He had been waiting for a number of days for this payment to come in. He then reversed his attitude, and went ahead and wrote out the checks for the money he owed anyway. When he went to pick up his mail ten minutes later, he was surprised to discover the check he had yearned for in his mailbox.

We have also seen instances where individuals were unwilling to spend their current funds for important necessities. Even when they had plenty of cash on hand, they hoarded it, often because of some unfounded fear. When they reversed themselves, life responded in extraordinary ways.

-A web site owner was hesitant to upgrade to a better web site because of the added expense, even though he had the required funds. The web host provider had suggested the better site a number of times in the past.

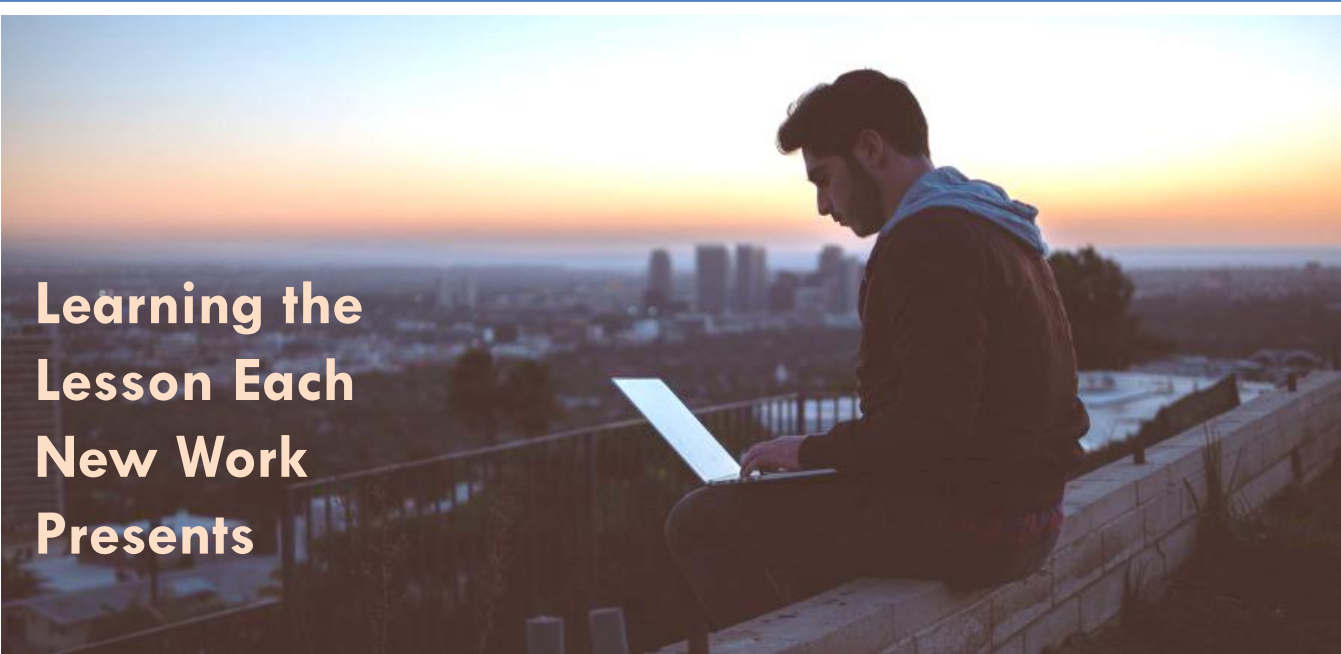

When the web site owner finally overcame his reluctance to spend, he discovered to his surprise that the web host provider had suddenly, the day before begun offering this better, higher-priced site, at a cost virtually the same as his current site!

-There was a man who was hesitant to spend money on a deserving friend.

When he changed his position and did so, he saw that money came back to him in the exact amount he had spent on his friend!

If you give up such attitudes and let money circulate, energy will flow, and life will reward you with good fortune, including the constant flow of money in your direction. This is proof of the subtle principle of "inner-outer correspondence"; i.e. life reflects on the outside your psychological condition inside within yourself. If you make your feelings or attitudes more positive, such as overcoming an unwillingness to pay a bill or the hoarding of money, life on the outside will respond positively to you in kind.

(To be continued...)

Learning the Lesson Each New Work Presents

Each work, project, important activity, etc. comes to us to teach us a particular lesson, to show us a new way, to garner a new skill or knowledge, etc. To do the work just as we did the previous ones is to not take advantage of the lesson life is offering, but rather to work out of habit, out of routine of the physical consciousness that merely wants to repeat. A keen mind will perceive that subtle life lesson as it arises in that particular work or activity, will rummage it around in our minds, and incorporate it in our storehouse of insights that we carry forward in our journey of ever increasing life experience, knowledge, consciousness, and delight.

Further comment: It would be useful to keep a diary or some such thing, and as we make our way through a work, project, major activity, experience, problem, etc. write down what Life Lesson we were presented with, and how we can implement it further in the future.

Water Desalinization Synchronicity

The other day I mentioned to a friend that I had once tasted the water near one of the towns on San Francisco Bay to determine if it was fresh water or salt water. I then asked her if she thought the water was fresh or salty. After all, the ocean backflows into the Bay, but also the rivers of California flow into the Bay and out to the ocean.

I mentioned this issue to my friend only because, after all these years, this memory and question had simply appeared in my mind. We then had a brief discussion of the nature of the water that flowed into the delta-like area astride the town; and then matter was forgotten.

Two weeks later I opened the local newspaper on my iPhone, and immediately saw the dominating headline "$10 Million Coming to Bay Area Desalinization Project; But Not On the Ocean."

It turned out to be the town of Antioch, the very one I mentioned to my friend a week earlier. Please note that there was no news articles on this topic or any other discussion I knew of when I thought of the matter and relayed my memory to my friend. Never had I discussed the issue, nor had seen any articles or reports of such had come to my attention. And now here a week later was an article directly addressing the issue I had thought of from out of the blue a week earlier.

How can this happen? Perhaps there is a vibration of these circumstance floating about, originating in events in the town (which the news article would later reveal), which I then picked up through my "mental receiver" as the contents were being developed. It then came to the fore a week later with the public announcement in the paper, synchronous with my experience.

Or further perhaps we can say that when we are in touch with a higher consciousness, or the Mother's supramental Force, past, present, and future become one thing, eg enabling us to receive in the present intimations of the future.

These are of course the eternal synchronicity and "Life Response" questions!

What do you believe?

<mailto:royposner@gmail.com>

Learning

GIIMS (Global Institute of Integral Management Studies) is a global New Age management institute based on the leading-edge, breakthrough education and spiritual teachings of integral genius Sri Karmayogi and others.

<http://giims.in/>

Primrose School, Pondicherry, a coed day school affiliated with the CISCE, Delhi. Here learning is a process of adventure and joy, in a nurturing environment free of fear where each child is treated as a growing mind and soul.

<http://www.primroseschool.org>

Values are like a compass, guiding us in the right direction ...

...helping us make Life Respond

Truisms of Life

1. Life does not honor social politeness. It goes by energy
2. The rule is everything expresses everything all the time
3. When man deviates from the path of life, Life takes initiative to keen the work on its path
4. Life offers people its Dharma, not Dharma
5. Positive or negative, what one is conscious of comes to fruition not according to his wishes, but according to the rules of Life
6. Life gives some news; others opportunities; still others the accomplished results. To the rare few Life offers the total Power that accomplishes
7. Life delivers its Good consciously through the unconscious human instrument
8. Life, like Mother, gives you more than one ignorantly asks for; in full positive atmosphere
9. The infinity is in the infinitesimal
10. Perfection in life makes it Divine Life.

-from 'Pride & Prejudice commentaries' by Sri Karmayogi

(To be continued...)

Business tip!

Consciousness of Managers, and Business Success

Many problems in a small or large business can be attributed to the limited views - attitudes, habits, beliefs, values - of its principals. If that individual(s) identifies and changes only one significant one, life's conditions will suddenly right themselves or new opportunities will quickly appear from out of thin air.

MOTHER'S FRAGRANCES

"Pure incense, with lovely, intoxicating scents, that can evoke deep peace and richness in the atmosphere. I believe Mother's Fragrances are the best in the world: quality-wise and spiritually."

Learning Life Response Through Literature & Films

TEST YOUR LIFE RESPONSE ANALYZING SKILLS!!!

According to Life Response principles, we should embrace opportunities that come our way, That come of their own accord. If we consciously or unconsciously reject them, then we would seriously lose out in life.

In Jane Austen's 'Pride & Prejudice' novel/film, Mr. Collins came to Mr. Bennet's house out of goodwill. He also proposed to Elizabeth, by which Mr. Bennet's family had the opportunity to preserve their Longbourn estate. It was an opportunity from life, yet Elizabeth rejected that proposal. Nevertheless, she was not affected by it, and also later gained the Pemberley estate. How to reconcile this two realities?

Please send your entries to: royposner@gmail.com

The Journey

(a novella by Roy Posner)

A man encounters a strange woman on the shores of San Francisco Bay, beginning an adventure that takes him to five continents in search of the meaning of Excalibur, a computer that is able to make life suddenly respond outside itself, defying the laws of logic, and space and time.

To download, visit-

Life Response Center

LIFE RESPONSE VIDEOS

Click here

Life Response Books by
Roy Posner

Click here to download free PDFs of Life Response books

Life Response Center

We are dedicated to spreading the word about the phenomenon of "Life Response". Please visit us and download books on Life Response, view articles, watch videos and evoke Miraculous Response in your Life!

<http://lrcenter.weebly.com/>

See Us on Facebook!

Click here

Feedback/suggestions/questions

Please contact us:
Life Response Center
royposner@gmail.com
Ph: (001) 925-283-1146

